2nd Troop Holds Regular Camp

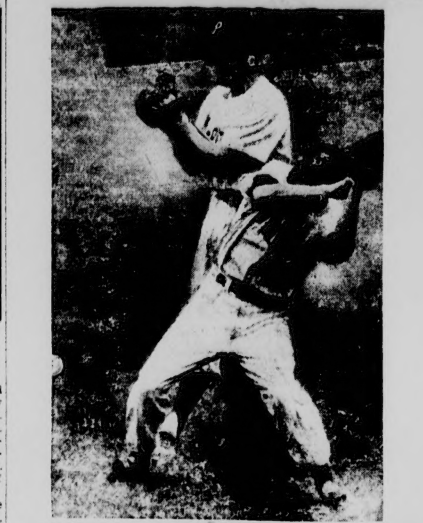

The 2nd Didsbury Boy Scouts have returned from their summer camp. All the boys report they had a very enjoyable time. The location for the camp was again at Bowfort Creek, on the Banff highway.

In that the weather was ideal for a holiday camp the boys were able to get in a lot of swimming and hiking. One day was spent in Banff another used to climb Mt. "Yam Niska" the Wall of Rock. Incidentally this formidable sounding mountain is a mere 400 feet high as measured by the Y.M.C.A. boys and is quite safe.

The boys in attendance at the camp were Wayne and Clarence Bouffard, Arnold and Virgil Stauffer, Lloyd Eby, Ronald and Gordon Sullivan, George Crawford, Ken Traub and Gordon Cable. The camp was in charge of Clarence Stauffer, assistant scoutmaster and Peter Waldin, S.M.

The boys missed Ray Stauffer, A.S.M. who has been attending the 1955 World Jamboree. Ray was at the jamboree as an assistant to Provincial Commissioner Charlie Crowhurst. By all reports Ray has thoroughly enjoyed the trip east. The troop is waiting his return for report of his stay at the Jamboree.

The boys' activities consisted of contests, etc., which preceded the gift opening by the guest of honor and her bridesmaids. Miss McDonald received many beautiful gifts which she thanked everyone.

Veterans Build New Homes Under V.L.A. And C.M.H.C.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

A year ago part II of The Veterans' Land Act was enacted by Parliament by special request of the Canadian Legion. The legislation provides for assistance so veterans can build their own homes under the joint assistance of The Veterans' Land Act and Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. Based on the great success that resulted from the plan which V.L.A. adopted in allowing veterans to "Build Their Own Homes" on small holding establishments, the Legion made representation urging such assistance be extended to veterans who work in cities and towns and wish to build on individual lots.

The grant or subsidy to veterans building on small holdings is not available under Part II, V.L.A., but alternatively veterans who have used their Re-Establishment Credits or had less than 275 days University training are not required to use these advances. Veterans who still have their credits intact can use them toward building or furnishing their homes. The Veterans' Land Act materially assists the veterans in becoming their own contractors by providing Construction Training Courses, free legal and administrative services for documentation and registration of land and drawing up mortgages; competent staff of Construction Supervisors who assist veterans to select plans, make up cost estimates and give actual supervision on the job. The Director, V.L.A. advances up to $8,000.00 interest money to veterans as working capital while the houses are under construction. Veterans' Contractors absorb or eliminate the usual contractor's profits and contribute much of their own labor, this greatly reduces construction costs and the veterans are able to erect very substantial and comfortable homes otherwise beyond their reach. On completion of the house, title is vested in the name of the veteran who then signs a mortgage in favor of C.M.H.C., repayable over a term of twenty-five years by easy monthly installments including taxes. Once the mortgage is signed V.L.A. drops out of the picture and is ready to assist another veteran.

C.M.H.C. then takes over, their present interest rate is 3 1/2%, although some approved lenders are willing to take up these mortgages at 5%.

One hundred and fifteen veterans are to date building their own homes under Part II throughout the length and breadth of Alberta and the British Columbia Block. In addition to this, some forty-five veterans are on small holdings. These veterans expect to occupy their new homes this winter and are at present hard at work on their new houses, which are some up all the way from Concordia in the south to Fort St. John in the north. These houses are modern, attractive and comfortable and built from C.M.H.C. approved with all the latest features and conveniences. In sponsoring the new legislation the Canadian Legion specially stipulated the veterans be required to take a training course in house construction so that the veterans would be more efficient contractors.

The Legion is taking a great interest in these houses that are being built, the different branches have done much to assist in putting on the course, particularly making accommodation available. The Veterans' Land Act held a number of training courses last fall which were well attended by veterans intending to build under Part II. These veterans are now doing an excellent job as their own contractors. Further courses to be held this fall are now being arranged throughout the Province, depending upon the number of applications received at the different towns and cities. Veterans wishing to take one of these training courses this fall, so they can build next year, should, without delay, contact the nearest Regional Office or Field Representative of the V.L.A. and submit their applications for qualification. A qualification certificate is a pre-requisite to attending a training course. Once a course has been started no further can be enrolled. Naturally, veterans require a little working capital of their own but it is really surprising how veterans with limited means, initiative and a desire to work and to own a modern home can, under this scheme, succeed in acquiring a lovely and comfortable home. The veterans' wives are most enthusiastic and often insist on taking the training course with their husbands and assist them in the actual construction and decorating work.

Screen Star
keeps "young" look

Time and weather can't mar the perennial good looks of aluminum screen cloth. It gets star billing among builders and home owners both because it lasts so much longer and because it never stains or discolors surrounding woodwork.

It is also the lowest-priced non-rusting insect screen on the market. And that adds point to the happy fact that Canada is the world's most efficient aluminum producer. And that fact, in turn, means that people who make aluminum screen and window frames, roofing and hardware for Canada's active building industry can do so at prices that save a lot of people a lot of money.

What's The Answer ?

Last week we shot a column at our readers, asking a lot of questions concerning local and provincial affairs. (Some answers were forthcoming).

This week we have more questions, not pertaining to anything or anyone on the local scene, but it could happen anywhere. We quote from a United Press release:

LOS ANGELES: Jimmy Thomson, the 13-year-old youth who shot and killed his mother "to show the other kids I was no sissy," was held in juvenile hall here pending a pre-detention hearing.

The tousel-haired boy shot his mother, Mrs. Hilde Thomson, 51 with a .22 calibre rifle in their home.

He told Sheriff's deputies: "The kids at school kept calling me a square because I didn't steal or get into trouble."

Mrs. Thomson was shot in the head three times and her clothes partly torn from her body. The boy's father, Harry Thomson, and his older brother, John, 18, both were away from home at the time of the shooting.

The boy telephoned sheriff's deputies after the shooting, saying, "I shot my mother. I think she's dead. I'll wait here for you."

The above pathetic story should make parents think more than a little. It only happens once in a million homes that the final result of non-interest in children causes such a fatal end.

We have no way of knowing what the home life of Jimmy Thomson was like, but we venture to say that had he divulged the jeers, sneers, etc., of his maulin school chums (?) to his parents, the above account concerning the shooting of his mother would never have appeared.

We who are blessed by the presence of children in our homes must be numbered among the most fortunate in the world. Incidents as quoted above definitely do not happen every day, but it makes a person think. Do we take enough time to explore the minds of our children? Do we check with them on their activities of the day? Do they have confidence in us? Do we engage in the play time or engagements in which we may help them? Do they bring their troubles to us?

There are a thousand and more answers to the above problem, but we firmly believe that had Jimmy Thomson been "on the inside" with his family, his mother would still be alive and he would not have to spend the best years of his life behind bars, and without a mother

Accidents Can Be Missed I

Harvesting is just around the corner, and at this time it would appear we are almost certain that mother nature is going to bless us with a good crop. It is really a pity that in the hurry and scurry that will go along with this good crop, that there will be a loss of life, people maimed and untold suffering for others, because someone was careless—someone forgot for a moment that safe operation of machinery was part of their responsibility.

Farm machinery manufacturers by the use of bright colored decals on machinery, point out to the farmer, safety reminders. Observation of these warnings would have prevented many accidents that have happened, and if followed by operators, will prevent many in the future.

Too many tractor accidents have occurred and seem to be the result of operators just not thinking. Travelling in road gear without foot brakes locked together can be very dangerous, and particularly if the tractor has a very high road speed. Tractors should never be filled with fuel while the engine is running, and with the number of tractors that farmers use on the roads today, lights (both front and rear) should be in working condition at all times. Caution in removing radiator caps when engines are not should be practiced. Most tractors now have pressurized cooling systems, and it is possible if the cap is removed quickly from the hot radiator that a severe burn from steam or boiling water will result.

Really, when you stop to think of it, it takes only a few seconds extra to be safe, and so a last reminder on the tractor subject, remember—your tractor is like a car—driving lessons are necessary for younger people and the inexperienced.

The weather is going to be used on many farms this fall. Becoming entangled in the power take-off shaft is the most common and most dangerous accident. This can be prevented by installing and firmly securing in place the power take-off shields provided with every machine. They only take a minute to install, but can save a life. And in this connection it is usually found that a dangling sleeve or ragged jacket was the beginning of trouble. Modern farmers today are wearing clean-cut clothes. Above all stop the swatting before making any adjustments or before greasing.

Harvester combines, the same as tractors and swathers, are a blessing to our modern age—they have made it possible for less people to produce more, and have helped raise our standard of living to the highest in the world, but the combine or harvester must be operated sensibly if accidents are to be avoided.

Making repairs or greasing the combine while it is in motion, is usually the cause of most accidents. Actually no time is saved in doing this, as the machine does not receive the care it deserves, and will probably break down sooner. This is a secondary consideration, of course, the main one being—how many times can an operator make repairs and grease a machine, before he becomes entangled in moving belts or chains, and get seriously hurt?

You just can't be too careful. All safety features in the world cannot prevent accidents unless operators begin to realize their responsibility to themselves and to their families, and the country as a whole.

It is interesting to note from actual statistics, that factory workers, railroad men, and other groups of people who have great risk attached to their jobs, have smaller ratio of accidents today. This, of course, has been accomplished by a concentrated effort on behalf of industry and labour, to acquaint workers with the necessity of being safety minded while at work.

Farmers themselves could do well within their organizations, to form safety committees, and give publicity to the need for more care, not only in the operation of farm machinery, but covering all phases of farming. Many 4-H Clubs in the province are very active in this regard and have safety committees that seem to be doing a commendable job in bringing to their membership's attention, at large, the necessity of making safety something that is practiced every waking hour of every day.

Safety on the farm should not only be practiced outside, but should include the home as outbuildings as well. Making a check of stairways to see they are clear, is recommended—seeing that electrical appliances and wiring are in top repair, and checking guns and making sure they are out of the reach of children and not loaded.

"So you met your wife at a dance. Wasn't it romantic?"
"Romantic? I should say not. It was embarrassing. I thought she was at home taking care of the kids."

Trophies On Display

Contributed.
"Had a visit with Peter Waldin of Waldin Transport, the other day, asked him what all the trophies and pictures meant that were featured in McDonald's window. He said they meant a lot. But, briefly, that another home-town boy had made good. There had been Ed Wiggins, who headed the Canadian Teachers' Association, and the one and only 'Morjoe', who did the same for the postmasters. All this had brought fame to Didsbury. Then Tom Morris received his medal from the Queen and that really put the town on the map. Mr. Moran also received a Queen's medal."

Now comes Freddie Dedels, medals and trophies galore, as the Canadian champion of truck drivers, to add further to the glory of the old town.

Pete said that only two or three American drivers had won the state championship three times running. Fred has won the provincial title four times, which should put him in a class by himself.

So I asked him if Fred really was as good as all the trophies let on, and he put an emphatic "yes," that he was. In the past eight years with Waldin's Transport, Fred has proved himself a prince of drivers and worthy of his Roadeo honors. McDonalds be sure to drop by McDonalds store and see the evidence that another home-town boy has made good."

BOARD TO ASSIST HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

For some time the members of the Board of the Olds School Division No. 31 have felt that some assistance should be given to high school students who of necessity must travel from their home districts to the centralized high schools.

Since no provision is made in the School Act for the transportation of high school children it is necessary to have any such arrangements approved by Ministerial Order from the Dept. of Education.

After considerable deliberation the board forwarded the following to the Dept. of Education and Ministerial approval was received.

Any pupil in Grade 9, 10, 11, and 12 who is compelled to attend a school outside his own district, and who is not provided with transportation, has the option of 75¢ per day for each day of attendance for transportation or maintenance, or correspondence courses provided free of charge. Special cases to be committed by the Board.

Students who qualify for this assistance must still attend the school to which the Divisional Board directs them.

Editor's Note: We think this is a forward step towards the final solution to the problem of transportation for the above-mentioned high school students.

A cub reporter, told to cut his stories to the bare facts, carried out the order precisely. His next story read:

"J. Smith looked up the elevator shaft to see if the car was on its way down. It was. Age 45."

Mrs. Klinck Honored
At Farewell Party

On Tuesday afternoon last a large gathering of ladies met at the Westcott United Church to honor Mrs. Klinck, Sr., a departing friend. Mrs. Klinck Sr. having just recently moved to Didsbury to reside.

The three W. I. groups, Westcott Sr. and Westcott Jr. and Jackson W. I. organizations combining their efforts and talents to making this event a success. Mrs. Herbert Goeten acted as mistress of ceremonies for the occasion and a short program was given, which consisted of a sing-song, with Mrs. Gordon Ford at the organ, then followed a contest, all taking part. We had so many right answers, it was a hard time awarding prizes. This was followed by some delightful acts, singing by Maxine and Elizabeth Ford, (Mrs. Klinck's two great granddaughters), to conclude the program Mrs. Lionel Bird of Garfield rendered a beautiful vocal solo, "The Voice In the Old Village Choir."

Mrs. Bird Sr., another old-timer, then presented Mrs. Klinck with a lovely bouquet of garden flowers and as she so fittingly put it "May it with Flowers." Mrs. Klinck graciously accepted the gift.

The ladies then retired to the church basement for tea. Mrs. Ed Klinck, Mrs. Earl Klinck, Mrs. Gordon Ford and Mrs. R. McFarlane doing the pouring. Tea completed Mrs. Harry Levagood, on behalf of the ladies presented Mrs. Klinck with a purse of money, expressing the sentiment of all as she did so, to which Mrs. Klinck then replied, expressing the wish that we all come and see her in Didsbury. The party was brought to a close by all singing, "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow," thus an enjoyable afternoon came to an end. A special thanks to all who helped in any way in making this affair so pleasant and memorable.

WALTHER LEAGUE
HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

The August 16th meeting of the Redemptor Walther League opened with the hymn, "Oh, Bless the House Whither We Call," and prayer.

Irma read a very interesting topic "We Have Fun Together."

The roll was called, visitors welcomed, and minutes of the previous meeting read and adopted.

Rita Rodney signed the roll. Grace Rodney volunteered to lead the next topic "What I Can Learn at Home."

The Meyer Leaguers served a delicious lunch to 21 Leaguers and five friends.

COYOTES: The presence of coyotes is posing a problem to many sheep and turkey ranchers. During the 6 weeks I have given out quite a quantity of poison pellets and coyote getters to help combat the wily rascal, Mr. Coyote.

Just the other day a turkey rancher came to me for more poison pellets so that I had an opportunity to ask him about the effectiveness of these poison materials. He related to me that in his case it had entirely solved his coyote worries. He said that he knew of at least 7 dead coyotes as a direct result of the pellets he had put out.

Some of these dead coyotes were from 1/2 to 1 mile away from the spot where they had picked up the pellet.

This time of year a large turkey flock presents quite a temptation to a coyote and it may well be that you will have to take measures to protect your flock. If such is the case get in touch with me and I will explain to you how to use poisons safely and effectively.

During these busy days I don't have a definite day designated to be in my office as I am busy with wedding work. However, if you have poison materials, contact me by phone I will arrange to meet you at the office and fill your requirements.

WRIGHTSON - McLEOD

The United Church at Innisfail was the scene of a very lovely wedding, on Saturday, August 27th at 2 p.m. when Alice Mary, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wrightson of Innisfail, became the bride of Malcolm Even McLeod, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm A. McLeod of Edmonton. The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of fern and gladioli, and vases of mixed flowers. Rev. H. Ricker performed the marriage ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a gown of white imported French lace and pleated nylon tulle over satin, poised over crinoline and fashioned with short sleeves and bateau neckline. The back of the dress featured a fan shaped semi-train of flounces of pleated nylon tulle and lace. Her finger tip veil of embroidered net, misted from a tiara of tulle petals, embroidered with mother-of-pearl sequins and pearls. Lace mitts completed her ensemble, and she wore as her jewelry, a single strand of pearls with earrings to match, and the groom's fraternity pin, pinned on her gown. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations, and a lace handkerchief made by her maternal grandmother, and carried by her mother at the wedding.

She was preceded down the aisle by four attendants. Mrs. C. A. Wrightson, sister-in-law of the bride, as Matron of Honor, and Mrs. Glen Thompson, cousin of the bride, wore waist length dresses of imported French lace over taffeta in shrimp tone, with matching floral bandeaus. Miss Bertha Morrison, and Miss Margaret Rollins, wore waist length dresses of green lace

Lone Pine Orioles Regular Meeting

The Lone Pine Orioles met at the home of Mrs. Otto Bittner on August 19 with 12 members present. The meeting came to order with a singing and the creed. The roll call was answered by saying "my pet peeve."

Mrs. Bittner gave a report on the antique tea which was held previously. Elections were then opened for new officers but Ellen made a motion that we only elect officers every two years. This makes Molly Lucas, Treas., Annie McCulloch a new director, Mrs. Donald Thompson, Supervisor and Mrs. Ray Milne assistant supervisor.

Being Mrs. Bittner has taken over the job of assistant supervisor of the province the girls presented her with a little gift for four years of good supervising. Shirley Thompson received as prize for having the best vegetable display for the seniors and Karen Brander for the juniors. The Bit of Fun was given by Judy which was a contest. Joyce won for the seniors and Beverly for juniors. The lot draw was won by Shirley Shields. The evening was closed by singing "God Save Our Queen."

A woman with a dozen kids in her car went through a red traffic signal, a pedestrian yelled.

"Lady, don't you know when to stop?"

Looking back at the youngsters in the car, she replied, "I want you to know they're not all mine."

over taffeta with floral bandeaus to match, and all carried colonial bouquets of Ko-Ko-Mo carnations. Their jewelry was strings of pearls with matching earrings.

The groom was attended by his brother, William McLeod of Edmonton, as best man, and ushering the guests were, C. A. Wrightson of Didsbury, brother of the bride, and Hugh McDonald and Roy Porkka, fraternity brothers of the groom. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Lorraine McLeod of Edmonton, sang, "Because."

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. Wrightson chose a gown of grey imported French lace over taffeta, with pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Mrs. McLeod, mother of the groom wore a dress of Rosewood imported French lace lined with taffeta, with pink accessories and her corsage was of pink roses.

The groom's gift to the bride was a set of golf clubs, and the brides gift to the groom, a pearl tie pin.

Eighty-one guests were received in the church banquet room, the head table tastefully decorated with vases of flowers and white tapers, and centred with a three-tiered wedding cake. Mr. H. Morrison, of Didsbury, uncle of the bride proposed the toast to her, which was answered by the groom.

For the wedding trip to the Pacific coast and U.S.A., the bride wore an ensemble of haze blue cordelaine with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses and she carried an Arctic golf scarf.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. McLeod will reside in Calgary.

Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stevens of Didsbury, Miss Mona Stevens of Calgary, Carmen Stevens, R.C.A.P. of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. C. Wrightson, Mr. H. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Trevor Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. George Mullen of Didsbury.
